MANY SUPPORT CASES SETTLED BEFORE TRIALS

More non-support cases were brought in Adams county during 1949 than in 1948, but fewer defendants were found guilty by the court, the annual report of the county clerk of court shows.

The unusual situation arose from the great number of cases that were settled before going to court. A total of 52 non-support cases were started with justices of the peace throughout the county, and of that number 22 were settled before the cases were heard in court. During the previous year 44 cases were started, but only 10 were dismissed.

As a result Judge W. C. Sheely found 33 guilty in 1948, and had only 30 to find guilty and sentence to make payments to wife or children in 1949.

Jail For Drunken Drivers

The course of the drunken driver leads directly to the jail, the annual report shows. In 1949 there were 15 drunken driving cases, 13 of the defendants pleaded guilty, two were found guilty by jury and all 15 went to jail. In 1948 there were 14 cases, 11 pleaded guilty, one was found guilty by a jury and all went to jail.

Arrests for morals offenses declined in 1949. During the year there were 14 defendants brought before the court on such charges; 12 pleaded guilty, one was found guilty by the court, and one by a jury. Five were jailed; one placed on probation; three fined and five were given other sentences. In 1948 there were 24 such cases.

The number of defendants on larceny cases increased to 20. Of that number two were acquitted by jury; 18 pleaded guilty; three went to state prisons; four were given suspended sentences and 11 went to Adams county jail. In 1948, there were 11 cases.

One Liquor Case

There were 19 defendants on breaking and entering charges, of which 18 pleaded guilty and one was found guilty by a jury. Eight went to state prisons, two were placed on probation and nine went to jail.

There was one liquor law violation in 1949 with the defendant found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine and costs. There were no such cases in 1948. Eight defendants appeared before the court on forgery charges. One case was dismissed; seven pleaded guilty; one was placed on probation; two sent to jail and four paid fines and costs. In 1948 there were two such cases with both placed on probation.

Of the five defendants before the court on embezzlement and fraud charges, three pleaded guilty, one was found guilty by the courts and one was found guilty by a jury. One was placed on probation, two went to jail.

Resumption Of Mining Urgent

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP) — President Truman's fact-finding told him today that an immediate resumption of coal mining is "imperative"—in effect, a call for a Taft-Hartley injunction.

The board reported that John L. Lewis and the coal operators have been "more concerned with gaining tactical advantages" than with trying seriously to reach agreement.

It accused the union of failing "even at this late stage" to tell the soft coal mine owners exactly what it wants in wage and welfare fund increases.

Pupils Make Trips To U.S. Shrines In "Make Believe"

A number of the folders prepared by the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce, containing information and many pictures, in color, of the battlefield, may not attract certain visitors here in the immediate future, but they are expected to pay dividends in the years to come.

Thousands of school children visit the battlefield annually, but this group to whom the folders have been sent will be making the trip to the national shrine in "make believe."

Many teachers have written to the Chamber of Commerce, requesting the folders, and describing these "make-believe" trips. The smaller pupils, at various times during the school year, take these imaginative pilgrimages to many of the country's leading shrines and points of interest.

The pupils may not be old enough just yet to make an actual visit to Gettysburg, but the Chamber of Commerce believes that the "make believe" trips and the folders will instill in the children a desire to come here later.

SAYS PROBLEMS TODAY SAME AS FACED LINCOLN

"The problems of today are still essentially the same as those faced by Lincoln," Col. Alfred E. McKenney, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg college declared Friday evening in a talk given at the annual Lincoln's birthday program held by the Gettysburg camp of the Sons of Union Veterans at the GAR post room on East Middle street.

"There is not much difference between the U.S. of today and the U.S. of Lincoln's day," he said. "Transportation and communication are swifter, it is true, and machines have replaced animals for power but these are accidentals. The essential spirit of America today, and the essential philosophy is the same as that of Lincoln's time. The great

Man Is Stricken Repairing Gas Leak

Roy Wolf, 23, Littlestown R. 2, became unconscious Friday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock while working on the gas mains in Fairfield.

An employee of the Manufacturers Gas and Light company here, he was repairing a small leak in a main when he "passed out." The local ambulance was called by neighbors and Wolf was brought to the Warner hospital. He remained as a patient overnight and will be discharged today.

The hospital said natural gas asphyxiation was the cause of his illness but noted that he had eaten a heavy meal shortly before beginning his afternoon's work and that in all probability it was the combination of food and gas that caused the man to become unconscious.

HOSPITAL REPORT

William Triller, 23, a student at Gettysburg college, was treated at the Warner hospital Friday for a fracture of his left wrist received while playing basketball.

Lincoln Square An Appreciation

No one man has brought greater fame and so much world-wide recognition to Gettysburg than Abraham Lincoln, martyred 16th President of the United States.

His Gettysburg Address, delivered here almost 87 years ago, is second to the Bible in foreign language translations, distribution and human appeal. Today, tenets expressed in that masterpiece of English literature more profoundly form the basis for freedom the world over than ever before.

Lincoln and Gettysburg are synonymous.

Children, diplomats, Presidents and Kings recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address with almost the same reverence they do a prayer. And each recitation or reading of this masterpiece carries with it a thought of this little Pennsylvania community.

With the deepest appreciation of what the Great Emancipator has done for Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, the nation and the world the Gettysburg Times will, as of this date, the eve of the 141st anniversary of his birth, and forever after, refer to our own Center square as LINCOLN SQUARE.

Texas Open Moves Into Finals Today

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 11 (AP)—A field trimmed to 67 links crack shots by two rounds of par-smashing moved into the final 36 hole of the $10,000 Texas Open tournament today with big Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans boasting a two-stroke lead.

Haas took part in the greatest onslaught on regulation figures in the history of this storied tournament yesterday as he laid down a six-under-par 68 to move out of a tie for the top and into undisputed first place. He had a 36-hole score of 133—nine strokes under par for two rounds.

The New Orleans star, seeking his third tournament victory in two months, found Brackenridge Park's 6,500-yard course exactly to his liking as he was long and accurate off the tee and deadly on the greens.

SAYS PROBLEMS

emancipator would feel at home if he were to come back to America now.

Says Problems Similar
"The problems then, as now, are to maintain freedom against opposition, to secure peace and security. Then as now we will not give up our personal liberty or our national integrity."

"Today we still believe in the same type of democracy that was Lincoln's, but today there are forces in the world which challenge our economic system; oppose our political beliefs and laugh at our spiritual ideals."

"The four freedoms can be saved for ourselves and the future only if we accept our responsibilities."

"We can have complete physical security today, at the cost of a high military might, the stockpiling of military machines and armaments, the establishment of a huge army, navy and air force and the establishment of the rigid controls of a military dictatorship."

Need Trained Men
"Thus our problem is one of how to maintain our security, but not lose our liberties in the process. One way is to establish a well trained, superbly equipped small force with the latest weapons, plus a part of the nation trained to step in when needed."

"We can no longer rely on the untrained minutemen, however. In the days when knowledge of how to use a musket was the main requirement of a soldier, the minutemen of 1776 could go with little training from their homes to the army."

"With today's technological advances we must have well trained men as citizen soldiers ready to back up the regular armed forces. Those men can get their training through the National Guard, the Organized Reserve and the Reserve Officers Training Corps."

"Thus we must have men with advanced training and knowledge, but we must have more. We must not treat our natural resources as inexhaustible, but must use them wisely so they will be available when we have most need of them."

Biggest Resources
"And in addition we must produce better educated, a more healthful nation. Our nation's greatest resource is the people themselves; what tremendous power our people have when united."

"Whatever security we have must come from ourselves. We must maintain our security and yet keep America a haven for those oppressed by other nations; we must provide for a more healthy America and educate our children to patriotism and responsibility. If we do this, the America that Lincoln knew and loved will long remain."

Attorney William L. Meals was master of ceremonies for the program which included invocation by the Rev. Willis R. Doyle and recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Arthur Aiken, a student of Gettysburg high school. The program followed an oyster supper served by the auxiliary.

CREWMAN LOST THROUGH OPEN DOOR ON PLANE

By DAVE ROBINSON

New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—A crewman was sucked through the open door of a giant airliner early today as the plane winged its way through darkness 8,000 feet over Long Island. A search was begun for his body.

Airline spokesman said a powerful air draft tugged John Harris, 28-year-old steward, through an accidentally open door of the pressurized main passenger compartment.

The plane, a Pan-American World Airways Transocean strato-cruiser, was flying at about 200 miles an hour when the door flew open, and Harris was swept out into space.

Sudden Gust of Wind
"I felt a sudden gust of wind," said Mrs. Anna Karjcek, a passenger. "The steward was standing near the door. Just like a flash, the wind blew him out. A long gasp or cry," followed, she said.

Other crewmen hurried into the passenger compartment to try to close the door, but were unable to do so because of the powerful wind pressure.

Mrs. Karjcek, 57, of St. James, a Long Island, N. Y., town, said that a few moments before the accident, Harris had been reassuring an aged woman passenger, and had told her: "We'll soon be landing, and I'll take care of everything for you. 'You've got nothing to worry about.'"

Launch Investigation
Inspectors of the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the Civil Aeronautics Board launched an immediate investigation. Crewmen were questioned after the plane—on flight from London—landed at New York no explanation why the door came International airport. There was open.

Capt. John T. Nolan of Huntington, N. Y., pilot of the plane, said he had received clearance for landing, and was reducing altitude when "Harris was lost through the opening of the main cabin door. The passengers remained calm and cooperative," he added. "The flight was completed without further incident."

Harris, of New York city, fell from the plane as it was flying over the vicinity of St. James, N. Y., on Long Island's north shore—about 45 miles northeast of the airport. Twenty-two passengers arrived on the plane.

German Official Arrested By Reds

Berlin, Feb. 11 (AP)—The British-controlled newspaper Die Welt said today that East Germany's foreign minister, George Dertinger, is held by Communist police under house arrest.

Dertinger's arrest, Die Welt said, followed police seizure this week of his personal office assistant, his chief of protocol and his girl secretary as "agents for the American and British secret service."

A member of the Christian Democratic party, Dertinger has orally supported the Communist line of the East German government to the limit. When he was absent from two sessions this week of the Volkskammer (East German parliament), officials said he was ill from a heart attack.

Die Welt said Communist Walter Ulbricht, the acting prime minister of the Soviet zone regime, was directing the investigation of Dertinger and his staff.

INDO-CHINA IS NEXT FOR HELP

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—With Indonesia set for a new $100,000,000 U. S. credit, Indo-China was chalked up today as the next Communist-threatened Asiatic region in line for American dollar help.

Diplomatic authorities look for the new Vietnam regime headed by former Emperor Bao Dai to be dealt a share soon of the $75,000,000 Far Eastern arms fund which President Truman has at his disposal.

Vietnam and the two smaller French-sponsored states of Cambodia and Laos in Indo-China also are eligible for United States Government loans such as the big credit which the Export-Import bank yesterday authorized for Indonesia.

Herbert Gaston, bank chairman, said Vietnam's needs will "certainly" be investigated if an inquiry is made.

Such a loan, which may be used only for economic purposes, might require months to negotiate. Meanwhile Indo-China is under direct pressure both from the advancing Chinese communists of its northern frontier and by the internal rebellion of Ho Chi-minh, Moscow-trained revolutionary.

Thomas Proposes New Potato Plan

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) today proposed a "production payment" plan as a solution to the government's surplus potato problem.

Thomas said after attending a White House conference with other top Democrats yesterday that he intends to introduce a bill, apparently based on the controversial Brannan plan, to:

(1) Allow market prices of potatoes to reach their own market levels without price-supporting loans and (2) assure farmers of payments from the treasury to bring their potato returns up to 75 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard fixed by the government, intended to assure farmers a return on their crops in fair relation to the price of things they must buy.

tivities of the home economics and 4-H groups throughout the county, of the annual round-up of the 4-H members and the homemakers day held by the home economics clubs.

Second Panel

The second panel discussion was led by County Agents M. T. Hartman and Ira N. Dunmire. Those on the panel and their subjects included: Thomas Murren, Hanover R. 4, 4-H clubs; Miles Starnier, Aspers, Senior Extension club; H. D. Waybright, Gettysburg R. 1, international youth exchange; Roy Heckenluber, Biglerville, poultry; A. Irvin Hostetter, Hanover R. 4, pasture; Joseph A. Stoner, East Berlin, dairy improvement; H. S. Stoner, Orrtanna, fruit; George Haenn, Gettysburg R. 1, dairy and A. B. C. Williams, York Springs, barley.

Details outlined by the group included the national 4-H round up attended by Murren; the rat eradication campaign and a folk festival to be held April 20 by the senior extension club; the visit here by a Scottish farm youth, told by Waybright; the increasing problems of the poultry industry and formation of the county poultry federation by Heckenluber; a report on successful grass silage use on the Charles B. Spicer farm at Heidlersburg by Dunmire; the rapid growth during the past year of the county dairy herd improvement association outlined by Joseph Stoner; the work of the county fruit growers association reported by H. S. Stoner; the organization of a committee to combat brucellosis and the need for such control reported by Haenn; and the use of the hot water method to combat smut on barley, detailed by Williams.

Dr. John Speaks

Dr. M. E. John, head of the department of rural sociology and agricultural economics, State College, principal speaker, declared: "We have a Sherman anti-trust act to combat bigness in business when it stifles competition and perhaps we should have some similar law to prevent the stifling of ideas by groups and governments."

"Organizations can become too large, and when they do they have a tendency to control the ideas of their members and to stifle originality."

"When an organization, whether agricultural or industrial grows big, it becomes more and more centralized and more and more it can make demands on government. So government must grow larger to meet those demands, and other groups, to protect themselves from the large group must grow larger, until we have every group becoming larger and more centralized to protect itself from other groups and from the government, and government growing larger to protect itself from the groups and to serve the demands of the groups."

"And if you belong to a group you want your group to win out, so you sacrifice your ideas to the group; and even if you think the group is wrong you do not want to be called a traitor."

Perils Of Bigness

"And the only way for a government to operate when it gets big is to secure the cooperation of all groups. So it must propagandize to get that cooperation, and thus ideas and policies become stratified because all come to believe them."

"Thus to protect our freedom to talk and to think, which is the basis of democracy, in order to permit fresh ideas and programs to work their way into our country's policies, we must prevent organizations from becoming too big. Perhaps we should pass laws prohibiting the federation of organizations beyond a certain point."

"If we do not, the occupational and other groups will become ever larger and more centralized, and the government will become more centralized and larger and the individual will no longer be an individual but a member of a group—and that way lies dictatorship."

BOY, 14, HELD IN FATAL SHOOTING

Baltimore, Feb. 11 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Walt Burman was being held without bail today for grand jury action on a charge of fatally shooting Wilbur Biddle, a 16-year-old playmate.

A third playmate, who was with the two other lads in the accused boy's basement, said Biddle and Burman agreed to tie each other up with a rope.

Then said the witness, 14-year-old Linwood Hollway, this is what happened: When Biddle was tied to a chair, Burman charged him with stealing his father's cigarettes. Burman took a .22 rifle from a closet and fired a shot over Biddle's head. Biddle laughed and dared Burman to shoot again. He did. He fired two shots, the second one striking Biddle in the chest.

Bullet Cagers Nip Penn State In Over-Time Thriller 66-65

In a spine-tingling extra period game played before the largest crowd of the season, the fast-moving Gettysburg college basketball team pulled a big surprise Friday night by nosing out the highly-favored Penn State cagers 66-65.

Coach "Hen" Bream's scrappy outfit had to over-come three lanky Lions all of whom towered over six and a half feet to pull their upset. It was Gettysburg all the way at the start and the Bullets led until the visitors put on a driving finish which resulted in the overtime.

Lamie opened the scoring from underneath and Pure connected from the side. Austin got another close goal. Pure added a foul and goal and Harris a free toss before Weiss looped two free tosses. Long shot the Bullets roaring in front and by using their speed and fast break the Bream-men rocketed their lead to 23-11 at the quarter before the bewildered Lions.

Lions Recover
Penn State started to recover somewhat in the second period and began to gain ground as the Bullets' shots were missing. Austin, McMahon and Lamie used their height to great advantage with practically all of the visitors' scoring coming from underneath. At half time Gettysburg led 32-25.

The teams battled on even terms in the third frame which ended 42-35.

Goals by Schissler and Lamie in the first minute of the fourth period made it anybody's contest the rest of the way. A pair of goals by Pure made the score 52-44 in favor of the locals with four minutes to go which seemed almost fool-proof. However after Schissler landed a goal the Bullets found their lead suddenly evaporate in a long shot by Tocci. Pure dribbled under for a goal with 2:45 remaining. Although the Lions still stuck to their zone the Bullets tried twice to score and both times it backfired when Schissler and Weiss tallied. In a mad scramble under the hoop after intercepting a Bullet pass down court, the Lions scored on a tap-in by Costa with 15 seconds remaining to send State in front 55-54. It was State's first lead.

With but five seconds remaining Sachs was fouled and dropped the ball through to tie the count 55-55, bringing the overtime.

Thrill-Packed Finish
Quick goals by Schissler and Panopolis sent State ahead but Easton converted two free tosses and O'Brien a single. Another one-hander by Panopolis was followed by a side chuck by Pure. Sachs made a leaping one-hander from the foul line to put the Bullets ahead 62-61 with 1:20 remaining. A few seconds later Sachs landed another foul which was followed by a free throw by Belber. Watson broke through for a layup to make the count 66-61 with 30 seconds remaining. In the closing seconds Williams and Schissler scored from beneath with the final buzzer finally ending the hectic contest.

The entire Bullet team again deserves credit for victory as all played their hearts out from start to finish. Next Wednesday the Bullets tangle with Navy at Annapolis, the game starting at 2:30 o'clock. The frosh and plebes are also scheduled.

Littlestown Club Elects 13 Directors

President Lewis Fox was in charge of the regular meeting of the Littlestown Baseball club Thursday evening in the VFW hall in Littlestown. The following directors were elected: Leonard Kerchner, Richard Maitland, Clarence L. Schwartz, Sr., Harry W. Badders, Everett Feaser, Walter Mehling, George A. Kress, Sr., Leon H. Gage, Harold Krichen, J. Robert Sell, Ray Harner, Ernest Renner and Charles W. Weikert.

J. Everett Feaser was elected playing manager, who will choose two assistants. A committee was appointed to make a final decision on the purchase of new uniforms, samples of which were on display at the meeting. The committee includes: Everett Feaser, Harry W. Badders, Robert Weaver, Clyde Crouse and Paul Hull. This committee will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m., at the VFW hall to decide on the uniform.

The association agreed to make a donation to the public speaking system at the athletic field. The team agreed to play in the Adams county league on Saturdays, if and when the league is organized. Chief of Police Gage was commended by the club for his efforts in contacting the local businessmen who are purchasing 18 new uniforms for the club.

GAVILAN LOSES; PLANS PROTEST
New York, Feb. 11 (AP)—Kid Gavilan's camp is blowing a gasket about the Cuban Keed's upset loss to Billy Graham.

Screaming "murder," they asked for a Tuesday date with Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York State Athletic commission, to protest the decision.

Actually it isn't that important. Not unless you had a couple of bob on Graham, the 4 to 1 underdog in last night's Madison Square Garden mill.

From this corner it looked like Gavilan by a whisker 5-4-1. We wouldn't argue with the decision. Nobody inflicted enough damage to raise a riot about the vote.

Referee Ruby Goldstein had Graham, 27-year-old New Yorker, out front 6-3-1. Judge Art Aidella saw it closer, 5-4-1, with Billy on top. Judge Harold Barnes found for Gavilan 5-4-1. The crowd of 11,812 that paid $37,035 roared its approval of the majority vote.

Hank Greenberg, Indians general manager, announced yesterday the aging negro chucker was to be dropped from the roster.

"In order to make room for x x x new men on our active roster, we believe it advisable to release Paige in view of his questionable physical condition," he explained. The Indians have seven men they can't send back to the minor leagues this season.

Paige, a barnstormer since 1920, didn't break into a major league roster until 1948 when he was in the twilight of his career.

Just how old the Satchel is remains a secret. His age has been estimated between 45 and 50, but Paige won't say.

Coach "Bud" Ecker's outfit put on a "freeze" act in the last two minutes to protect its margin. Both teams played tight defensive ball all the way and each team was limited to five goals. The defeat marked the end of an eight-game winning streak for Biglerville.

The Biglerville reserves won the preliminary game 27-17.

East Berlin made good use of the foul line to nose out Littlestown in another close affair at Littlestown 37-39. The winners caged 15 of 21 charity throws to secure their margin. Coach Evans' Thunderbolts landed 16 goals to their opponents' 12. Koons took the scoring honors for Littlestown with 19 and Mum-mert netted 17 for the winners.

Gettysburg high school remained in the battle for the second half title of the South Penn league by nosing out Waynesboro 36-34 at Waynesboro Friday evening.

The game was nip and tuck throughout with the outcome in doubt until the final whistle. It marked the 11th win in 18 contests for the Warriors.

Mechanicsburg, upset Friday by Hershey, plays here Tuesday evening in a game which will decide temporary possession of second place.

Coach George Forney's outfit led most of the way in the game but the score was always close.

A pair of goals by Harriel, a single by Deardorff and foul shots by Deardorff and Kuhn gave Gettysburg an 8-7 margin in the first period. Oiler landed five points for Waynesboro in the period.

Each team looped 11 points in the second period with the Warriors' points coming on goals by Deardorff, Krick, Harriel and Ford and a trio of fouls by Kuhn. At half time the score stood 19-18 with Gettysburg in front.

Deardorff sank two goals and as many fouls in the third period and Harriel and Sachs each single goals to hike the Warriors' margin to 29-24 at the close of the third frame. Gardenhour and Pryer netted goals for Waynesboro with Oiler and Shank contributing free shots.

The Tornado pulled to within dangerous quarters in the final period on a quartet of fouls and goals by Ditch, Pryer and Shank. A pair of goals by Harriel, a single by Cornwell and foul by Deardorff enabled the local hoopers to clinch the verdict.

In another close affair the Waynesboro reserves won the preliminary 25-23.

The victory enabled Lancaster to retain its lead in the Central Pennsylvania Catholic league.

In the preliminary game the Lancaster reserves won 38-25.

Next Tuesday the Squires meet St. Joseph at Baltimore.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

BACK TO NATURE

In Buffalo, N. Y., there has recently been built one of the most unusual hospitals in America, or anywhere else—the Veterans' Administration hospital. The architect went back to Nature, and chose as his design, that of the snowflake. Spreading out are four wings, each of these dividing into two, so that no matter where you view it, you get a pleasing view.

What the architect had most in mind in the designing of this hospital, was not its uniqueness, but its practical use, so by adopting the design of the snowflake, he gave the maximum of light, and created a saving of time, energy, operation, and maintenance costs. I don't see why our great apartment houses cannot adopt this snowflake design. A great deal of thought was put into the decision of this design. It took the architect a year to perfect it.

The Creator scattered his ideas in Nature, far and wide, and they simply beg for recognition. As a matter of fact Nature has been first in nearly everything that man has adopted as his own. The snowflake drops silently to earth in patterns so exquisite that they worked their way into endless creations that man has brought out. It is interesting to note that there are no snowflakes exactly alike in construction, but all are six pointed.

Nature is a world of perfect balances. The star in Nature, however, is usually six pointed, as in the star sapphire and ruby, though the star in our flag is five pointed. Designers borrow from Nature in a multitude of ways. In fabrics, rugs, furniture, and buildings. And many an inventor has secured his idea from some creature in Nature, so that we may well say that Nature is the source book for us all, and the greatest.

We see efficiency in Nature. Watch a squirrel handle the cone that he has snipped from the tree and let fall to the ground. He will then scamper to it, turn it over until he has it in the right place for discarding the rough covering without injury to his face, and get to that tiny bit of nut meat, working patiently until there is but a thread of a centre left. Nature is a library of knowledge, greater than any man has ever put together!

ENTERPRISE

With enterprise the factories rise,
Inventors methods new devise.
Where genius to work is free
Some day its dreams achieved may be.

With enterprise the cities grow,
To better schools the children go.
And all the years ahead await
The things that free men may create.

With speech and print by threat denied,
Soon lost are dignity and pride,
For men, no matter what their skill,
As slaves must serve some tyrants will.

With enterprise ambition thrives
And men may plan and shape their lives.

Where all dictators must obey
Come degradation and decay.

LOOK TO BRITISH FOR MORE FACTS IN FUCHS CASE

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—Security-minded congressmen looked to England today for more information on the American activities of Klaus Fuchs.

Particularly they want to know what information the high-ranking nuclear physicist is accused of giving to Russian agents, and who those agents were. As a member of a wartime British atomic team, Fuchs worked in U. S. Atomic Energy laboratories at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Los Alamos, N. M.

Prosecution witnesses told a London court yesterday that the 38-year-old German born scientist had confessed to being a paid Russian spy. Fuchs was bound over for trial at court sessions beginning February 28.

Details Lacking

In his confession, the court was told, Fuchs said that he gave information to Soviet agents twice during the 1943-46 period he was in the United States.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) told a news conference yesterday that the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee is interested in knowing exactly what Fuchs "stole and gave away."

He said the committee knows generally what was in the reported confession, but acknowledged there was some detailed information which had not yet been made available.

Tass Representative There Senator Tydings (D-Md.), committee member, has said that Fuchs disclosures to the Soviets may advance Russian development of the projected hydrogen bomb by a year or more.

McMahon's news conference was cut short after a reporter asked for estimates on the cost of the H-bomb. "I wouldn't tell you if I could," the Senator answered. "There is a representative here of a news agency that transmits everything I say to Russia."

The conference was attended by accredited members of the Senate press gallery, including Jean Montgomery, representative of the Soviet news agency, Tass.

Vogeler, European representative of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., has been held incommunicado since his arrest last November 18.

Harrisburg, Feb. 11 (AP)—The state Bonus Bureau today urged veterans who have moved after applying for the state bonus to notify bonus headquarters here and the local post office of a change of address.

PANTOMIMES DEATH VERDICT

Norristown, Pa., Feb. 11 (AP)—A negro condemned to death for murdering a policeman tried in vain to convey the guilty verdict to his deaf, 82-year-old father with realistic pantomimes of hanging and electrocution.

Ollie M. Carey, disregarding the shocked courtroom crowd, heard the foreman of a seven woman, five man jury read a verdict of "guilty ... first degree murder ... death" yesterday.

Then he turned to his father, sitting quietly behind him. And while each juror repeated the death verdict, Carey caught his father's attention, then—

He jerked his finger across his throat. The old man did not understand. Carey drew the knot of his tie tight up under his jaw, simulating hanging, and rolled his eyes. Still his father did not get the idea. Carey began a shovelling motion, apparently indicating a grave being dug. His father's face remained expressionless.

Carey gave up. He signalled to a youth behind his father to get the verdict across. The old man rushed weeping from the court.

Carey was convicted of slaying Thomas J. Mathews, an Abington township patrolman in a wooded area near Philadelphia. His attorney announced he would seek a new trial.

Better Hospital Facilities Asked

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—Better facilities for women neuropsychiatric patients at the Coatesville, Pa., Veterans hospital was urged by Edward Linsky, of Harrisburg, Pa. Linsky made the plea before the American Legion Rehabilitation conference yesterday after Roy Tomnitz, St. Louis, had told the conference ex-service women in a St. Louis veterans hospital are receiving indecent treatment from hospital employees.

Tomnitz said women patients at Jefferson Barracks hospital have to use the same bathroom as male patients in an adjoining room. "These women are subjected to improper advances by white and colored male attendants," Tomnitz said.

The VA told the Legion officials that plans are being drawn for placement of 175 veteran patients in the army's Valley Forge General hospital at Phoenixville, Pa., which is to be closed June 30.

Riding with Russell

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
BY FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
Member S.A.C.E.

Having a collision is a poor way of trying to make ends meet.

Big Story Still Skill

Evidence continues to pile up in support of the theory that car performance has more to do with the driver's skill than with the vehicle. Logic holds that if a car has some basic faults they just have to be taken with a smile, no amount of driving ability being likely to surmount them. But the evidence is all the other way. Some people can even make poor riding cars comfortable by a better selection of speed. I know one driver who has discovered the exact speeds at which he can shift gears and avoid motor vibration, other owners of the same make and model finding the going unpleasantly rough at all times. Compensations go a long way toward getting along with cars' shortcomings. There is much in understanding one's car. Many salesmen have lately been surprised at the way prospects have made extremely smooth new cars run poorly. It is just because these drivers are carrying with them too many habits which may have been useful in smoothing out their old cars. Many just bring along bad driving habits that would handicap any car, new or old.

Keep Them in Mind

Air bubbles in the fuel filter bowl mean a leaky gasket.

Most cars with leaf-rear springs would ride better and would squeak less if self-lubricating inserts were installed between the leaves near their ends. Springs equipped with liners should be re-set after a long period of service.

Excessive carbon often is caused by nothing more serious than too constant slow speed driving.

Lax On Gages

One trend in home building that bears watching and reversing is the current habit of fabricating garages without heat, running water and drains. It means that you can't wash your own car, nor start off with the car properly warmed up, nor get rid of ice and snow when bringing the car in from a winter storm. One builder tells me this saves his buyers $25 a year in fuel oil, no consideration being given the loss in car life because of cold starting. I have seen $30,000 homes with no electrical outlets for using electric engine warmers, special tools, vacuum cleaners or any of the other equipment prudent owners use to keep their cars up to par. It's nonsense not to have a garage as modern as the home kitchen. It's your most expensive piece of equipment and needs all the protection you can give it.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Now that winter is with us in earnest, better remember to check for a loose battery connection next time you are adding water. Driving over rough roads and ice-battered streets may cause one of the battery leads to loosen. A chain of serious troubles may result from this, not the least of which is frequent burning of headlight bulbs. A loose connection causes an increase in voltage. This, in turn, burns the breaker points. Starting becomes more difficult, not only because not enough current can be drawn from the battery but also because the points adversely affect the mixture."

Well Worth Knowing

If the car doesn't seem to be riding well, you can improve it in several ways. New tires always help. The springs can be reset. The shock absorbers can be checked. And now on some cars you can add coil springs to the seat cushions. Latest too, are seat toppers—sponge rubber layers that fit under the seat cushions.

High speed shimmy, or wheel tramp, can come from dragging front brakes, rear wheel wobble, and out-of-balance rear wheels and tires. Keep this in mind if the usual remedies for shimmy are of no avail.

This And That

A roughly finished brake drum will cause brake knocking. . . . No gasoline for motor vehicles is sold with more than 3 cc. of tetraethyl lead, this limit being figured many years ago as the amount below which there would be no risk of lead poisoning. . . . Readers of Mechanix Illustrated magazine are still voting overwhelmingly in favor of retaining the conventional transmission with plenty of zip in high gear. . . . Watch the battle this year for third and fourth place in passenger car registrations, a honey of a battle if there ever was one. . . . Safety officials will find a big lesson in the fact that some of the most dangerous roads have the fewest accidents.

Apropos Of Braking

The position of your car is extremely important to the safety and efficiency of braking. Often the car is off balance when the brakes are applied, and this has the same effect as uneven braking. The same is true when the car is curving, or when it is traveling over rough roads. A wavy road often presents a problem and is quite likely to cause the cause the car to pull to the right or left when being slowed down. Be especially careful of crowned roads when they are wet. Weight distribution is a factor, too. On a slippery crowned road, put Aunt Mary on the left hand side of the rear seat.

So many times questions bring a "no" for the answer. I thought you'd like to have a "yes" or "no" for a change. If you have wondered if it's permissible to use lower pressure tires on only the rear or the front wheels the answer is "yes." An affirmative answer applies also to use of a truck size battery in a large passenger car. You may have been told that you can't re-wax over a waxed surface, but you can. There's no need to re-polish the surface if the original wax has kept it bright and is not worn too thin. I might add that you can also get a device to cut out the front brakes if the road conditions warrant it.

Rough On Tires

There's a queer legend in motoring that tires have an easy time of it during winter driving. True, their treads are not ground off by high speed, and certainly they do not overheat. But there are plenty of compensating forms of destruction. Underinflation is top on the list. Chains do not help the treads. Many tires are damaged through erratic braking, not to mention encounters with chunks of ice and sharp objects covered with snow. At this season it is difficult to detect nails and sharp objects embedded in the treads, the result being many a damaging flat. Rough going also throws front wheels out of line. The tires pay the price.

What's Your Trouble?

Q My car has developed the annoying habit of pulling to the right, especially on crowned roads. Everything has been checked but there seems to be nothing wrong with front-end alignment. K.L.M.C.B.

A How about rear-end sag through weak rear springs. Or worn rear shackles? Or a too loose rear axle? Meanwhile put two more pounds of air in the right front tire. It will help the situation.

Q I have had some conflicting reports on the proper ignition timing of my car. Can you help me on this? H.G.

A I want to thank you for letting me know the name, model and year of your car because this is essential for any specific information. So many owners who write me overlook this point. The confusion about the timing arises from the fact that your particular job doesn't have fluid drive. Thus the timing should be set at top dead center. With fluid drive the timing is set for the second line after top dead center as shown on the engine's vibration damper.

Q Will you kindly tell me what sort of file I should get to clean up the breaker points? Just how is the job done? K.R.W.

A Hold everything! Points should not be filed. They may be stoned if there is enough metal left on them to make this practical. Usually points need to be replaced. Use a round feeler gauge for setting the gap, not a flat gauge.

Q Have a most disturbing skip in the motor. There are no sticky valves. Tappet clearances are sufficient. A new carburetor and close attention to timing and ignition place the ring gear.

Q Will a stretched timing chain cause overheating and lack of acceleration? F.E.T.

A A stretched chain will jump and retard both valve and ignition timing.

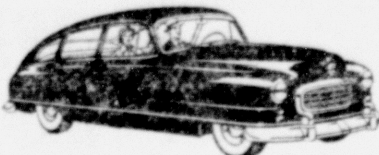

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

The Twentieth Century Fund reports that the largest part of American's wartime increase in total output came from the fact that more people worked rather than from increased productivity.

KOREA-FORMOSA AID APPROVED

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—The Senate quickly approved and the House passed a bill today for $85,000,000 program of economic aid for South Korea and Formosa.

The spending plan, aimed at helping check communism in the Far East, was approved by the House Thursday, 249 to 134.

The Senate, which already had voted aid for anti-communist South Korea, was scheduled to take up a separate bill carrying aid for the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa.

Instead, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) moved that the Senate merely amend the one-package House bill providing aid for both countries. Senate Majority Leader (Calif.), active Republican leader, agreed.

Vice President Barkley announced the measure had passed by voice vote, without debate. Less than a quorum of the Senate was present.

The program provides $63,000,000 for the Republic of Korea and $22,000,000 for the Chinese Nationalist government of Formosa. These funds would be spent over the next five months.

The Senate, which already has voted economic aid to Korea, pushed aside all other business to take up a separate Formosa-aid measure.

Legion Investigates VA Hospital Policy

Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—The American Legion has taken steps to find out who is responsible for the limitation of hospital beds by the Veterans Administration.

George N. Craig, the Legion's national commander, was named head of a committee to find out after a VA official indicated it has no plans for taking over any of 18 military hospitals ordered closed or reduced by the defense department.

F. H. Dryden, VA construction chief, told the Legion's annual re-habilitation conference yesterday that the administration's present 131,000-bed limit was set by the budget bureau.

He said the VA has no authority

THE MANAGEMENT

NOT TOO long ago, the fellow who writes the advertisements for Prosperity Cleaners sent an all-weather coat to this dry-cleaning plant. When it was returned to him, the above note was attached. All night the night before, he had tossed and turned with the insomnia and fitful dreams that are inevitable in the "idea" business. The question that kept him awake? . . . Simply this! "What is the copy to be used in the next Prosperity ad? What do people want to know about the dry-cleaning business that they do not already know?"—Then this note came. "Of course! That's it! Eureka! I've found what the patrons of this business really want to know!" . . . This simple tag attached to the ad-man's coat is the symbol of efficient service rendered with care, and with the precaution of a query to the owner as to whether or not he wishes to risk his clothing to the possible dangers of wet-cleaning. (To write an advertisement for any product, or to promote some service effectively, the display advertising artist must have one powerful idea to help him . . . That is the idea of CONFIDENCE. That is the idea that I have of Prosperity Cleaners. — THE AD-MAN)

Tried, Tested and Proven FOR OVER 30 YEARS

Pumps identical in design to the Red Jacket-Reda "Submerga-Pump" have been used successfully in the oil fields for over 30 years. Billions of barrels of oil, water and brine have been pumped from depths down to 10,000 feet under varying oil field conditions—a tribute to the quality construction and reliability of this new type pumping equipment.

Utmost Convenience and Economy

This is the only type of submerga pump that can be installed in wells as small as 4". Absolutely noiseless operation. Pressure tank and control can be installed anywhere. Costs less to operate because of greater pumping efficiency.

In Memoriam

STARNER—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear father, William A. Starn, who departed this life 3 years ago, February 12, 1947.

A father dear, a father kind
Has gone and left us here behind
Twas hard to part, but God knew best

To take him to his heavenly rest.
Dear father, you will never be forgotten.

Never shall your memory fade
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
Round the grave where you are laid.

Sadly missed by all the children.
